The Colony of Queensland comprises the north-eastern portion of the Continent of Australia—its northern extremity is Cape York, and its southern (on the coast) Point Danger. The one hundred and thirty-eighth degree of longitude is its boundary on the west.

The Area of the Colony is 668,497 square miles, and its seaboard extends 2,250 miles.

The Colony is divided into sixty-one Electorates, fifty Districts each returning one member, and eleven Districts each returning two members. It has thirty Municipal Boroughs, six Municipal Shires, and about two hundred small Towns or Townships. There are also Divisional Boards charged with the construction and maintenance of public highways and other necessary public works within their Divisions.

From the returns of the Census of 1891, it appears that, out of the entire population, 205,307 are Australasian born (of whom 176,971 were born in the Colony); 77,187 were born in England and Wales, 43,036 in Ireland, 22,400 in Scotland, and 14,910 in Germany.

There were only 3,900 persons returned as suffering from sickness and accident, being at the rate of 9·91 in every 1,000 persons.

The following are the rates of increase during the intervals between each Census:—

* Excess of departures over arrivals.

† Since 1866, increasing areas of land have been alienated by private sale or selection. The aggregate area and amount received for land alienated in fee-simple to the end of 1883 was 6,911,577 acres; £4,518,224.

 The numbers of letters and newspapers have been revised to correspond with an amended Return furnished by the Postal Department.

$ The figures from 1866 include telegrams sent and received; previous to that year no record was kept of messages received from places beyond the Colony.

¶ From 1883 number and tonnage of vessels calling at more than one port in Queensland during same voyage only counted once.

†† The total yield of gold to end of 1877 has been estimated by the Mines Department at 2,646,916 oz., which is 999,905 oz. more than the quantity shown as sent by escort during the same period: the amount sent by escort was always known to be short of the actual production, and the discrepancy increased as railways to the interior were completed, but prior to 1878 there were no other means of forming an estimate

Claims for dredging under ocean.

2. The warden may, upon the application of any person or persons the holder or holders of miners' rights, grant a dredging claim for dredging for gold or any other mineral on the foreshore and lands under the ocean adjoining thereto, not exceeding two miles in length along the foreshore and four hundred and forty yards in width.

Existing prospecting areas.

3. The holder or holders of any prospecting area for dredging heretofore granted under the provisions of the Regulations hereby repealed shall, upon application in writing to the warden in that behalf, made on or before the first day of March, 1900, be entitled to the grant of a dredging claim as and from that date in respect of the whole of such area or so much thereof as is comprised in such application.

Consolidated claims.

4. Upon application in writing to the warden in that behalf made by the holders of contiguous dredging claims, the warden may consolidate any number of such claims into one consolidated dredging claim, provided that such consolidated dredging claim shall not exceed six miles in length.

A grant of a consolidated dredging claim shall be in lieu of, and represent, and be of the same force and effect as, the several grants of dredging claims theretofore subsisting.

Mode of marking dredging claims.

5. All dredging claims shall be marked off by erecting at both banks of the river, stream, or watercourse, in positions to mark the boundaries, or, in the case of dredging claims on the foreshore, by erecting along such foreshore posts, painted white, not less than nine inches square, standing not less than two feet above the surface, and sunk not less than four feet below the surface of the ground.

Conditions of occupation applicable to dredging claims.

6. Any single or consolidated dredging claim in the bed of a river, stream, or watercourse, that may, under these Regulations, be granted shall be taken and held subject to the condition that any person who may at the time of granting such dredging claim hold any mining tenement on the banks of or in the vicinity of such river, stream, or watercourse, or who may thereafter lawfully take up or acquire any such mining tenement, shall not, in consequence of the granting or holding and working of any such dredging claim, be restrained from discharging the tailings, waste water, or débris from his mining tenement into such river, stream, or watercourse; and the holder of such dredging claim shall have no right of action against any such person for so discharging tailings, water, or débris into such river, stream, or watercourse, anything in these Regulations to the contrary notwithstanding.

Labour conditions applicable to dredging claims.

7. For the period of six months after the grant of a dredging claim the holder shall not be required to employ any men or machinery upon or in connection therewith.

After the expiration of such period of six months, the holder of every such dredging claim shall employ continuously upon such claim not less than three men for every mile or fraction of a mile in length of such claim, or, in the alternative, shall keep continuously employed thereon, and fully manned, machinery of a value of not less than five hundred pounds for every mile or fraction of a mile in length of such claim, unless in any case partial or total exemption from labour conditions has been obtained from the warden: Provided that all applications for exemption shall be subject to so much of the provisions of the seventh Regulation as is not inconsistent with this Regulation.

NOTE.—The amount actually realised bears but a small proportion to the amount sought to be recovered; but it must be borne in mind that in many cases the defendant, on a levy being made, becomes insolvent, and any property seized passes to the Official Trustee for the benefit of the Creditors, and consequently no sale by the Sheriff takes place. Many also of these writs of fieri facias were for large amounts, the suitors holding mortgages over and being in possession of the property seized, and were merely lodged for the purpose of obtaining the Sheriff's title for the conveyance of the interest, the purchase money being nominal.
